

What Lengths Will People Go To, To Receive Money?

From broken legs, cemented heads and dead bodies, just what will these YouTubers do next?

Youtube is a popular format in this day and age with over 13,000,000 users everyday and over 1.3 billion every year. Youtube has fun content to watch, however, there is also a dark side to the multi-million-dollar company.

Youtubers called 'TGFbro' tied a bike to a tree and sped down a hill on a bike. One of the YouTubers fractured their leg in 4 places. The same YouTubers did a stunt where one man cemented his head into a microwave and had to have the emergency services called out to help the man get the cemented microwave off his head.

Social media star, Logan Paul, caused an uproar when he posted a video on his 15 million subscribers-strong YouTube channels with it already gaining millions of views before it was taken down.

These stunts could influence the young people of today to do the same.

There has been a lot of controversy as to whether these channels should be taken down permanently.

Youtube rewind: every year the company takes the biggest social media stars and trends and creates a video about it.